Background and AODA legislation

Ontario has enacted the legislation on accessibility – the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 (AODA). The goal is for Ontario to be fully accessible by 2025. In order to accomplish this a number of standards will be implemented, four of which apply to Parents for Community Living.

1. Accessible Customer Service Standards – establish policies, practices and procedures on providing goods and services to people with disabilities.
2. Accessible information and communication standards – addresses the removal of barriers in access to information. The standards include information being provided in person, through print, electronic, website or other form of media.
3. Accessible employment standards – addresses paid employment practices related to employee-employer relationships which include recruitment, retention and selection policies and practices.
4. Accessible built environment – addresses barriers in public spaces and buildings. The standards for public spaces will only apply to new construction and planned redevelopment.

As a result of the legislation, businesses and organizations that provide goods and services to people in Ontario have to meet certain standards as outlined in the legislation. The Customer service standards has already become law as of January 1, 2012 and Parents for Community Living has complied with the minimum requirements of the regulations.

This multi year plan is intended to move PCL towards meeting the mandatory requirements of the Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulation.

PCL will provide the opportunity for all people supported, families, staff and volunteers to identify needs related to disabilities and that those needs are accommodated in a manner that supports the dignity of the person. This will be reflected by:

- People with disabilities being able to enter PCL premises and reach their destination without encountering barriers.
- People with disabilities receiving the services they require without encountering barriers
- People with disabilities working without encountering barriers
- Accessibility being a thread that is woven through all PCL policies and practices
- Accessibility being accepted as everyone's responsibility.

Objective of the Multi Year Accessibility Workplan

Parents for Community Living will identify, remove and prevent barriers to people with disabilities, who work or receive services from the organization, including people supported, families, staff and volunteers.
