

IN HONOUR OF BLACK HISTORY MONTH WE RECOGNIZE AND CELEBRATE OUR EMPLOYEES RACIAL, ETHNIC, AND CULTURAL BACKGROUNDS

OMOTAYO DEBAYO-SANUSI, DSP AT MALABAR

Omotayo was born and raised in Nigeria. She is married and has one son and one daughter who are in their twenties. Omotayo worked in the hospitality industry in Nigeria and enjoyed making people happy and smile.

A LIFE CHANGING DECISION

Opportunities in Nigeria are difficult to come by, and having grown up in Nigeria, Omotayo could foresee the challenges her family would face, so five years ago they came to Canada to better their circumstances.

A NEW START

Omotayo is a strong believer in the importance of continual education. When Omotayo moved to Canada, she went back to school for Developmental studies in Toronto. Her goal was to continue to make the same impact on people here in the healthcare field as she did in Nigeria. Her favourite quote is to always be kind and show love. Omotayo shared that she felt kindness and love when she moved to Canada.

IMPORTANCE OF SELF LOVE

Self Love is important, if you spend the time and reward yourself, you will be motivated to do more.

One of Omotayo's favourite things to do is go out to eat at different restaurants.

She loves to sit down catch up with friends and enjoy a delicious meal in the process. It makes her feel good and it's healthy.

Omotayo's advice for personal and professional growth is not to be afraid to try new things and mistakes are lessons to be learned from.

Thank you Omotayo for sharing your story with us. We are so happy to have you as a part of the PCL community.

In 2018, 40% of Nigerians (83 million people) lived below the poverty line, while another 25% (53 million) were vulnerable. With Nigeria's population growth continuing to outpace poverty reduction, the number of Nigerians living in extreme poverty is set to rise by 7.7 million between 2019 and 2024.

OBAFEMI AWOLOWA IS AN INFLUENCE FOR OMOTAYO

Obafemi Awolowo was a Nigerian statesman who played a key role in Nigeria's Independence Movement. Awolowo was responsible for much of the progressive social legislation that has made Nigeria a modern nation.
